PARTIES TO SUITS WILL ARBITRATE

George W. Thomas and His Tenant,
Frank Warrick, to Submit
Differences to a Board

TWO SUITS ARE DISMISSED

Arbitrators Have Right to Question
Witnesses and Will Decide on
Court Costs

An old form of settling law suits and personal difficulties was resorted to this morning when George W. Thomas and Frank Warrick agreed to settle their difficulties by arbitration, each party to select one person and the two thus named to name the third party which will compose the board.

The agreement to take the two law suits pending out of court and settle the matters by arbitration came on the eve of the trial of one of the suits. The suit of Thomas against Warrick, who is a tenant on the Thomas farm near Homer, for a restraining order, was to have started this morning. When the agreement was signed both suits were dismissed and the costs will be paid later. The board of arbitration will determine who is to pay the costs. The other suit was for the possession of the farm.

Under the agreement the board of arbitration shall examine witnesses and have authority to pass on all matters in difference between Thomas and Warrick. The agreement is as follows:

First, that both of the said suits shall be dismissed by plaintiff. The question of who shall pay said costs to be submitted to the arbitrators.

Second—Each of said parties shall select a disinterested party as an arbitrator, which party shall not be related to the parties herein either by blood or marriage nor shall have been a witness in either of the said causes and the two arbitrators so selected shall elect a third person with like qualifications and these three sitting as a board of arbitration in Rushville, Indiana, shall hear all matters of difference or grievance between the said parties that have not heretofore been settled by the parties.

Third—Each of the parties hereto, in person or by attorney shall be present with any witnesses or other evidence he may have at the meeting of said board of arbitration and shall submit in writing to said board an itemized statement of the amounts of claims due him from the other party, and he shall also furnish a copy of statement to the opposite party at the same time.

Fourth—Said board of arbitration shall consider all questions presented to them by the parties or their attorneys and shall have the authority to question the parties or witnesses themselves, and shall be given whatever time they desire to consider said matters and to render a decision on the same. And the decision of said board of arbitration shall be final and accepted by the parties hereto as a final adjudication of all points of difference presented to said board of arbitration. And said arbitrators shall have the right, if they so desire to visit the Thomas farm and inspect, in person, any portion of same they may desire.

Fifth—It is agreed that the pay for the service of said arbitrators shall be borne equally by said parties hereto.

Judge Sparks heard the suit of William Catey and Gerald Catey against Donel Laughlin and John E. Laughlin this morning. The suit was on a note and the demand was $200. The court took the evidence under advisement.

The plaintiff in the suit of Elma E. Porter against John G. Gartin, demanding damages in the sum of $6,000, filed a motion for a change of venue from the county.

ORGANIZES FOR CITY CAMPAIGN

Republican Committee Elects S. G. Gregg, Chairman, George Helm Sec., F. H. Green, Treas.

PRIMARY LAW CONSIDERED

Impressed on Prospective Candidates They Must File Declarations 30 Days Before Mar. 6

The republican central committee of Rushville met at the court house last night and organized and considered the methods that will be used to set in motion the machinery of the first city primary ever held here. The primary will be held the first Tuesday after the first Monday in March, which falls on the sixth.

S. G. Gregg was elected chairman of the committee; George Helm, secretary, and Frank H. Green, treasurer. Republican city committees were reorganized all over the state yesterday afternoon and last night at the call of the republican state chairman, Will H. Hays. The democratic city committee will be reorganized Friday night at a meeting in their rooms over Caron's store.

Several candidates for city clerk were mentioned last night, but none has publicly announced that he will be a candidate. It was also reported that some members of the council would seek re-election.

The thing that the city committee wishes to impress on prospective candidates is that they must make declarations of their candidacy at least thirty days and not more than sixty days before the date of the primary, with the city clerk or a member of the city committee. The candidates must comply with this provision or their names will not be printed on the official ballot.

This provision of the law says that each candidate in the primary shall pay one per cent of the annual salary of the office for which he seeks to be a candidate to defray the expenses of the primary, but that was held unconstitutional and was not followed in the primary before the general election.

All duties imposed upon the clerk of the circuit court in the general primary fall upon the shoulders of the city clerk in the city primary. He appoints two canvassers, one representative from each of the two leading political parties, and the three compose the canvassing board.

There has been much talk of the legislature which convenes tomorrow changing the primary law so that the city primary would not be held so long before the election, but it is not at all likely that any changes made would affect the coming primary.

RUBBER FOOTWEAR GOES UP

Wholesalers Advance Prices 15 to 20 Per Cent, Dealers Say

Local dealers have received notice of an increase of 15 to 20 per cent in the wholesale price of rubber footwear, effective January 7. One dealer who has received such a notice says that the retail price of rubber boots will be advanced fifty cents a pair immediately, but that the increase by the wholesalers is not likely to cause the price of overshoes to go higher this season at least. The wholesalers say the advance is not due to the high cost of rubber, but to the rise in the price of the fabrics used in making rubber footwear and the increased cost of labor.

CITY LOSES THE PEDDLERS SUIT

Supreme Court Affirms Local Decision in The Case Against Louis Heyneman

HISTORY OF THE ACTION

Opinion of Judge Sparks That he Was Doing Interstate Business is Upheld

The City of Rushville lost its suit against Louis Heyneman, the traveling representative of a Cleveland clothing house, who was charged with selling without a license. The supreme court yesterday affirmed the decision of Judge Sparks in holding that the city could not compel him to take out a license as he was doing an interstate business.

The action was brought in the mayor's court at the request of a number of merchants, who objected to Heyneman selling his wares in competition to them without paying a license fee. Mayor Bebout found for the city and ordered Heyneman to pay the sum of $25, holding that the city had been damaged thus amount by his peddling without a license. Heyneman appealed to the circuit court where Judge Sparks found for him and then the city took the appeal.

The action was quasi-criminal, the city attempting to recover a penalty and the action was prosecuted by John Kiplinger, who was then city attorney. George W. Young defended Heyneman.

It was shown in the case that Heyneman was a resident of Cincinnati and that he was soliciting orders for men's clothing by sample to be thereafter shipped from the factory in Cleveland and examined before final payment. The court held that the ordinance, which requires peddlers or solicitors to pay a license fee of from $2 to $6 a day, was void as attempting to restrict interstate commerce and that Heyneman was not liable for the penalties under it.

The city maintained that as Heyneman required a deposit of one dollar with each order, the transaction took place on the day the order was given and this did not constitute interstate business.

This is the second case going from Rushville to the supreme court involving the ordinance for collecting fees from peddlers. The first case was reversed and the council amended the ordinance. The first case went to the supreme court about twenty years ago. The ruling of the supreme court is as follows:

23000. City of Rushville vs. Heyneman, Rush C. C. Affirmed. J. Erwin. (1) Suit by appellant for a penalty under an ordinance requiring the taking out of a license for peddling or for soliciting orders. It is shown that appellee was a resident of Cincinnati, that he was soliciting for orders for men's clothing by sample, to be examined upon delivery after shipment from Cleveland. The court holds that the ordinance could not require a license to transact the business, as it was interstate commerce.

HOLDS ITS FIRST SESSION OF 1917

Council Employees George W. Young as Attorney for Another Year and Apportions Funds

PLANS TO ATTEND MEETING

Supt. Mahin Will Aid in Movement to Take Plants From Under Commission's Control

The city council at the regular meeting last night awarded the banks and trust companies of the city the public funds for the coming year. Bids were received from all of the banks and trust companies and the apportionment, which is for two years, was made on the same basis at the last apportionment.

The funds will be apportioned to the banks as follows: Rush County National, thirty-two and one-half per cent; Rushville National, twenty-eight and one-half per cent; Peoples Bank, twenty per cent; Peoples Loan and Trust company, ten per cent; Farmers Trust company, nine per cent.

The meeting last night was quiet because the council met only last Saturday. The meeting was the first of the new year. George W. Young was employed as attorney for the city for another year. Mr. Young has completed one year's service.

A meeting of mayors and city officials will be held in Indianapolis on January 9 when plans will be discussed as to how to go about getting municipal-owned plants from Service Commission. Superintendent A. T. Mahin will attend and it is likely that Mayor Bebout and one or two councilmen will also attend. The movement is general throughout Indiana to take city owned water and light plants from under the control of the state commission and the meeting may develop something definite and a line of action outlined.

The police committee was empowered to purchase some spaces for the police and also to get the police motorcycle overhauled before spring. The treasurer's report for the month of December was referred to the finance committee.

The report of Superintendent Mahin for the month of December showed disbursements for the month of $2,612.60 and the receipts of $5,274.92.

There were no claims last night as all the bills were paid at the special meeting last Saturday.

SUIT FOR $15,000 DAMAGES FILED HERE

Case of Lawrence Maxwell Against Springfield Insurance Co. Reaches Local Court.

BROUGHT IN FAYETTE COUNTY

A damage suit in which the amount demanded is $15,000 has reached the local court on a change of venue from Fayette county. It is the suit of Lawrence Maxwell against the Springfield Fire and Marine Insurance Company of Springfield, Mass.

Maxwell is the owner of a large factory building, which was insured in the company against any loss from the fire sprinkler system. The complaint alleges that on April 25, 1915, a severe windstorm took the roof off the building and in doing so the debris fell downward, causing the sprinkler system pipes to break and flood the interior of the factory. He claims that the material, stock and machinery were damaged and that the total loss was $21,500. He claims that the Springfield Insurance company is liable for $15,000 of the damage by reason of their policy.

MUST SLAY THE LIONS OF TODAY

Christians Compared With Mighty Men of the Times of David and Christ by Minister

WEEK OF PRAYER SERVICE

Rev. S. G. Huntington Selected "Mighty Men" as Text—At First Baptist Church Tonight

By drawing comparisons between the mighty men in the times of Christ and David and today, the Rev. S. G. Huntington brought out in a powerful sermon last evening on "Mighty Men" the necessary qualities they are to have today. He took for his text 1st Chronicles 11:22, and as in the text, "Benaiah slew lions against odds, so my friends, must we, to be Christians, be able to slay the many lions of sin with which we come in contact."

The service last evening was at the St. Paul's M. E. church, with a very good attendance. This evening the meeting will be at the First Baptist church with the sermon by the Rev. D. Ira Lambert; and tomorrow evening the Rev. W. M. Whitsitt will preach at the First Presbyterian church. These meetings are carrying out the plan of the ministerial association for a union week of prayer.

"In many ways David's kingdom resembled Christ's kingdom and can we not say that the mighty men in the time of David resembled the type in the time of Christ? Too, David did not or could not accept the kingdom until the people were ready and willing for him to rule over them, until all Israel recognized him as God's anointed. So it was with Christ, and so it is with him today. He has been chosen by God as King but is not received by the people yet. The waiting season has been 2000 years and yet He cannot be crowned until the people are of one heart and mind to receive Him. We sing 'All Hail the Power of Jesus Name' but what are we doing to bring it about?" emphasized the Rev. Mr. Huntington.

"According to the scripture, Benaiah slew a lion, and do you know when and where? It was 'in the midst of a pit and in the time of snow.' It was a bad place and a bad time. How often is it the case now when we attempt to slay the lions that come in our path when some 'child of God' attempts to stop us. As the lion is the strongest of wild beasts so we are called upon to slay the lions of today or they slay us."

"And now what are some of our lions?" asked the Rev. Mr. Huntington. "There is that lion of besetting sin, doubt; the lion of impatience; and another of natural infirmity. The people that are unable to come to church on Sunday are the ones that I see on Christmas eve and every other eve down town tripping about like a boy of ten."

"My friends there are too many moral men and not enough real Christians. They are the ones who can spend all the money they have for pleasure and not one cent for the church. You say, I am speaking plainly. Surely that is my business. It is reaching the place now where the preachers can't tell the truth from the pulpit or they will lose their jobs."

"These lions that we must meet and conquer need mighty men as in the days of David. You and I must conquer the lions of worldly pleasure, the beasts that devour our souls and bring ruin. We must be men who will rise up and stand four-square to sin, instead of playing politics with sin. I am optimistic enough to believe there are enough Christians in the city of Rushville to conquer it for Christ and I am optimistic enough to think there are enough Christians in

MAN RECEIVING TIP IS NAMED

Proposed Investigation of "Leak" to Wall Street Takes Most Sensational Turn Today

INQUIRY SEEMS CERTAIN NOW

Rep. Bennett of New York Says Bernard Beruch Was One of Those Getting Advance News

(By United Press.) Washington, Jan. 3.—The fight in the house over proposed congressional investigation of the "leak" to Wall Street of advance information on the President's note to warring nations took its most sensational turn this afternoon when Representative Bennett of New York named Bernard Beruch as one of those who received the advance tip.

He said it was rumored that Beruch sold 15,000 shares of steel common on a rising market thirty minutes before the note was published. That congress will investigate the "leak" seemed certain following Bennett's declaration.

In the senate an endorsement of President Wilson's note was refused for the fourth time following a stormy session. Senator Stone chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, in speaking in the senate, exonerated Secretary Lansing from blame for "leaks" in the state department which Stone said resulted from the present civil service system.

This statement was made following a conference between Lansing and the senator.

TO LAY CARDS ON TABLE, INDICATED

When Secretary of State Visits Capitol, it is Believed Administration Will Play Openly

WILSON WANTS ENDORSEMENT

By ROBERT J. BENDER
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, Jan. 3.—That the administration has finally decided to lay its diplomatic cards on the table before the senate foreign relations committee was indicated today when Secretary of State Lansing went to the capitol to consult with members of the committee.

The secretary's visit was interpreted as indicating the administration is more anxious for endorsement of its peace note than it has heretofore revealed.

Lansing's visit, the first he has made, followed conferences between President Wilson and Chairman Stone of the senate committee and between Lansing and members of the house foreign affairs committee.

PAY ALL BUT $500 ON ROAD

Commissioners Hold up This Sum on Contractor.

The county commissioners today ordered the sum of $500 held back on Wilk and Company, contractor for the William J. Brown road in Anderson township. The commissioners held that the road lacked this much money of being completed. It was not specified what work the contracting firm had to do to get the balance of the money. The evidence on a remonstrance against accepting the road was heard yesterday. The commissioners spent most of the day allowing claims.

Serving the News.

In both foreign and domestic news the United Press has served its clients, of which the Daily Republican is one, during the past year in fine fashion. From every foreign capital and from every important center in the United States the United Press each day gleams the important happenings and they are served up for evening readers. The advance of this association has been so rapid that it now has more evening clients than any other news gathering association in the field.

Standing out as the biggest foreign news beat of the year—in fact one of the biggest journalistic accomplishments of a decade—is the interview with David Lloyd-George, now the British Premier, published in The Republican on September 28. In this interview the then British War minister told the world through the United Press the attitude of the Allies toward the war. The interview has been quoted time after time in the peace discussion that has recently arisen. It virtually has become a state document to which the entire world refers.

From this high mark of the year in news achievement, on through the various crises in this country, and in handling endless "big" domestic stories, through the United Press The Republican has been able to publish the news first.

On the night of November 7 when all other news agencies, and newspapers throughout the country, announced the election of Charles E. Hughes, The United Press stood solidly on the returns it was gathering through its bureaus and correspondents. Those returns did not show Hughes elected. The United Press was not stampeded. It was delivering reports from state after state far ahead of the opposition service. It was passing through one of the most severe tests of speed, accuracy and efficiency that had ever arisen, and it made good. When the turn came, The United Press was far ahead on developments in California, which finally clinched the re-election of President Wilson.

For the nominating conventions in Chicago, through the campaign with staff correspondents covering the tours and speeches of the candidates, and on to the final count in California. The Republican led the way with the United Press report.

The beginning of 1917 finds The Republican better fitted than ever before to give its readers the news

WILSON ENTERS PARLOUS YEAR

New Year Promises to be Most Eventful Twelve Months of His Administration

PAST YEAR A GREAT STRAIN
International Relations and the Election Furnished Big Things In 1916

By ROBERT J. BENDER
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, Jan. 3.—President Wilson enters a new year fairly teeming with the portentous problems in international affairs. Peace discussion in Europe—with the President as one of the foremost characters in the drama—loomed large on the year's horizon. Behind this vision, however, there rose intricate and dangerous questions of trade and diplomacy, the readjustment of world affairs and the economic revolutions bound to follow close of the war.

In brief, 1917 promises to be the most eventful twelve months of President Wilson's administration. The year nevertheless made its bow at the White House mildly, inaugurating no changes in the President's regular program of daily work.

Looking back on 1916 the calendar pages disclose twelve months of almost constant strain at the White House.

"Our own rights as a nation, the liberties, the privileges, and the property of our people have been profoundly affected," as a result of the war, the President declared recently.

He probably was thinking of his tour through the central west urging immediate response to a call for preparedness; his constant difficulties with Germany and England as a result of breaches of international law; his appearance before Congress with a warning that broken of the entire world first. In August, 1916, the United Press established the first comprehensive South American news service and closed a long term contract with La Nacion, the leading newspaper of Argentina. President Wilson, Secretary of State Lansing, Foreign Secretary Nureture, of Argentina and many other government and financial leaders commented on this connecting of the two Americas through news channels as a history making step of the highest importance.

The year saw many important foreign developments of the United Press, including the signing of important contracts with leading Paris papers; the establishment of a connection with the Australian Press Association and extensions in England, Germany and Russia.

After an extended trip through Russia and a period in Petrograd, William Philip Simms, manager of the Paris Bureau, returned to France and was permanently re-detailed to the British front.

Simms is the first American correspondent at the British front representing one neutral news agency exclusively.

Henry Wood is now with the French armies. He is credentialed to remain at the front permanently, and was an eye witness at the recent French victory at Verdun.

Carl W. Ackerman was with the German army when the Teutonic forces made their victorious sweep through Roumania which culminated in the capture of Bucharest.

W. S. Forrest has on different occasions visited the British fleet. He sent personal eye-witness stories from Ireland during the revolt there.

From the Balkans, from Italy, Germany, Russia, England and France have come United Press stories—FIRST.

You All Know the Person.

Who is so averse to the principle of obedience that he will not even attend to his own business.

Peter Zyla of Chicago was about to receive $3,500 for going blind while at his work. The insurance company doubted, and got Miss Hazel Daley in the guise of a moving picture actress to raise her skirts to unusual heights in Daley's presence. He opened his eyes wide and stared. Now the court is expected to decide he is not entitled to the money.

relations with Germany was a crisis immediately facing the United States, and finally the hope of an end to these dangers when Germany proffered peace to the world.

The White House itself has housed some of the most dramatic scenes in its history. Full details may never be told of the dramatic conference between the President and administration leaders in the library of the Executive Mansion when it appeared inevitable that the United States would be drawn into war with Germany.

It was then the President told Senator Stone of the Senate foreign relations committee that if another American life were lost as a result of violation by Germany of her pledges to this country on submarine warfare, the only course left open to him, was to sever diplomatic relations with Germany. And questioned as to whether or not such action would mean war, the President replied he had been told it would. It was a stormy conference in which the minds of the President and his faithful leaders were laid bare.

It was followed by an effort to pass resolutions in Congress warning Americans off armed ships—a measure fought to a successful finish by the President himself. Later he appeared before Congress, notifying that body of the virtual ultimatum sent to the Kaiser, following the Sussex sinking.

There was another dramatic conference in the White House. The Gold room, famed for its spectacular social events during years gone by, was opened to a conference between the President and five hundred railroad trainmen in an effort to ward off a nationwide railroad strike. This was followed by the appearance of railroad executives, representing millions of dollars of capital, and for days the conference went on to no avail.

Immediately afterward the President wielded his "big stick" over Congress and forced the passage of an eight hour law, averting the strike.

Then came the election. The exciting scenes of uncertainty surrounding the climax of that struggle were transferred to Shadow Lawn, where the President was spending his vacation. The President himself tells an interesting story of the twenty-four hours from Tuesday evening until Wednesday evening when the returns gave the result first to Hughes and then to Wilson.

During Tuesday evening he sat with Mrs. Wilson and his daughter, Margaret, in the library of the mansion hearing the returns. They were a dubious lot of returns and after all the New York papers had awarded the victory to Hughes there seemed little hope for him in the outlook.

"I retired about 12:30," the President says, telling of his feelings, "and at that time the situation could not be termed encouraging. I was shaving the next morning when my daughter, Margaret, who had risen early in order to catch a train for New York, came up and informed me I was elected."

"Oh, pshaw," I said to her, "what do you mean. Let's have some of the details." She then told me that early reports received over press association wires in the Executive office indicated the change. However, I went on shaving. Details were not very complete. They, of course came later."

The President that day played an exceptionally good game of golf.

Mrs. Wilson's confidence in the outcome already had been indicated when she planted tulip bulbs in the front yard of the White House in order to enjoy them next fall.

A DENTISTS FORMULA

True Secret of Keeping Youthful Looking

(The Beauty Seeker.)

"The real secret of keeping young-looking and beautiful," says a well-known hygienist, "is to keep the liver and bowels normally active. Without these requisites, poisonous waste products remain in the system, polluting the blood and lodging in various organs, tissues, joints. One becomes flabby, obese, nervous, mentally sluggish, dull-eyed, wrinkled and sallow of face.
"But to get liver and bowels working as they ought, without producing evil after-effects has been the problem. Fortunately, there is a prescription of unquestioned merit, which may now be had in convenient tablet form. Its value is due largely to an ingredient derived from the humble May apple, or its root, which has been called 'vegetable calomel' because of its effectiveness—though, of course, it is not to be classed with the real calomel of mercurial origin. There is no habit-forming constituent in 'sentinel' tablets—that's the name—and their use is not followed by weakness or exhaustion. On the contrary, these harmless vegetable tablets tend to impart tone and elasticity to the relaxed intestinal wall. Sentinel tablets, which may be procured from any druggist—a dime's worth will do—will prove a revelation to any constipated, liver-troubled person."

A RAW, SORE THROAT

Eases Quickly When You Apply a Little Musterole

And Musterole won't blister like the old-fashioned mustard plaster. Just spread it on with your fingers. It penetrates to the sore spot with a gentle tingle, loosens the congestion and draws out the soreness and pain.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment made with oil of mustard. It is fine for quick relief for sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bitten feet, colds on the chest (it often prevents pneumonia). TODAY'S FISH RECIPE.

Furnished by Dr. H. E. Barnard.

In cooking any kind of fish, the things to be remembered are: Fish should be fried in deep fat, which after cooking, should be drained thoroughly and, if necessarily, placed on white paper to drain. Chilled fish should be thoroughly thawed before cooking. The best way is to put the fish in cold water. If warm water is used, cook the fish in the same water.

Well salted water should be used for boiling fish.

Care should be taken, not only to prepare and cook fish properly, but to serve it attractively.

A can of curry powder and a small stock of seasoning will enable the housewife to vary her dishes indefinitely.

Cold fish should not be wasted. It makes numerous excellent warm dishes and fine salads.

SPOTLIGHT ON W. B. COCHRAN

His Presence at Bomb Trial of Thomas J. Mooney Attracts Attention—Donates Services

CONFESSIONS ARE REFUTED

Alleged to Have Plotted to Place Explosive in Midst of Preparedness Parade

(By United Press.)

San Francisco, Jan. 3.—With W. Burke Cockran occupying the spotlight as chief counsel for the defense, the second trial resulting from the Preparedness Parade dynamiting here began in superior court today.

Thos. J. Mooney, alleged leader of the four men and one woman accused of having plotted to place the bomb which exploded in the midst of paraders on July last, killed ten persons and injured 50, was on trial for his life.

The presence of Cockran has drawn the attention of the country to the trial in much the same way that Clarence Darrow's activity in the defense of the McNamara brothers drew the country's attention to that trial five years ago.

Following the conviction in September of Warren K. Billings, first of the five alleged conspirators tried. Cockran, a New York lawyer, volunteered his service to the defense. He will serve without compensation, according to officers of the International Worker's Defense League which is conducting the defense.

Indicted with Mooney as a co-defendant is his wife, Rena Mooney, a music teacher and strike organizer, Thomas Mooney, leader of the defendants, was active in spreading strike propaganda and had planned to cause a general strike of United Railways platform men here a short time before the fatal Preparedness Day parade.

It was alleged by the prosecution that the bomb had been set to explode at a time when non-union employees of the street railway lines would pass the point where the bomb had been placed at Steuart and Market streets but that a delay in the start of the parade upset the plans of the dynamiters.

The defense declares all the defendants are innocent and are victims of circumstantial evidence. Mooney surrendered to the police after reading newspaper statements that he was implicated in the crime. He was stopping at a summer resort at that time.

The case has been featured by several alleged confessions which were later refuted. A number of photographs taken on the day of the Preparedness Parade are held by both sides as evidence.

The trial opened in superior Judge Frank P. Dunne's chambers. District Attorney Charles N. Fickert, and a corp of deputies represent the prosecution while Cockran, and Maxwell McNutt, represent the defense.

DRAIN QUESTIONS TO BE DISCUSSED

Farm Congress to Take up Proposed Legislation Regarding Construction of Ditches.

FAVORS CHANGES IN LAWS

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 3.—Legislative matters of interest to farmers will be discussed at the annual two-day session of the Indiana Farmers Congress which opened at the English hotel today. All important matters coming before the next session of the legislature will be discussed.

The congress is planning to have a bill introduced which will provide for the cleaning of tile, dredge and open ditch drains whenever they need cleaning instead of biennially as under the law now in force.

The proposed bill would also extend the duties of the county drainage commission and change the rates of assessment's for cleaning drains.

At the present time, county drainage commissioners are empowered to supervise the construction of drain only but it is proposed to make him responsible for their maintenance and repair; to appoint drainage superintendents for each township and fix flat rates per acre for assessment instead of the present system of charging in proportion to the benefit obtained.

NEW OFFICERS ARE ELECTED

Prizes are Awarded in Corn and Pastry Classes—Institute is Being Held at Mays Today

The twelfth annual farmers' institute held at Arlington yesterday under the auspices of Purdue University, was the most successful of any held. Over two hundred people attended the institute. It was voted to hold another institute next year, but the date was not set as this is determined by the officials at Purdue.

Officers elected for the ensuing year were as follows: Fred McFartridge, president; Ray Swain, vice-president and George Carwein, secretary and treasurer. J. M. Hufferd is the retiring president. Mr. Swain served as secretary and treasurer the past year and was advanced to the office of vice-president.

The corn show, while not as large as in previous years, was considerably better from the standpoint of quality. The corn was said to have been the best ever exhibited in Arlington. The first prize for ten ears of yellow corn was awarded to A. J. Reddick and the second prize to Windle Pitts. In the contest for the best ten ears of white corn, Windle Pitts was awarded first prize and Mr. Reddick, second prize. Pitts was also given first prize for the best single ear of corn. Silas Beckner was awarded second prize in this class.

The pastry exhibit was as good as in former years. The officers elected for the auxiliary section of the institute were Mrs. Blanche Carwein, president; Mrs. Fred McFartridge, vice-president and Miss Essie K. Pressnall, secretary.

The speakers at the institute were J. P. Prigg and Mrs. H. J. Deller. Their talks were instructive as well as interesting.

The Mays institute and corn show opened last night and continued throughout today. The same speakers as were at Arlington were on the program. Music was furnished by the Center orchestra.

SEASON OF PUBLIC SALES IN OFFING

Farmers are Now Scrambling for Dates so That There Will be no Conflicts

MILLER'S HEAVY SCHEDULE

The public sale season is coming on apace and it will not be many days until farmers, if they so desire, can occupy all of their time attending sales. It is a very rare thing for a farmer to waste his time attending these auctions, too, because he can nearly always find something that will be of use to him.

Clen Miller says he has more sale dates for the next three or four months than he ever had in a similar period in his successful career as an auctioneer. Farmers who want to hold sales are now scrambling for dates so as not to conflict with any other sale.

The farm public sale is an institution of only recent forming. A few years back a public sale on the farm was an almost unheard of thing, unless the farmer wished to quit business or dissolve a partnership.

Now farmers make it a business, many of them, to hold a public auction every year.

PARTIES TO SUITS WILL ARBITRATE

George W. Thomas and His Tenant,
Frank Warriek, to Submit
Differences to a Board

TWO SUITS ARE DISMISSED

Arbitrators Have Right to Question
Witnesses and Will Decide on
Court Costs

An old form of settling law suits and personal difficulties was resorted to this morning when George W. Thomas and Frank Warriek agreed to settle their difficulties by arbitration, each party to select one person and the two thus named to name the third party which will compose the board.

The agreement to take the two law suits pending out of court and settle the matters by arbitration came on the eve of the trial of one of the suits. The suit of Thomas against Warriek, who is a tenant on the Thomas farm near Homer, for a restraining order, was to have started this morning. When the agreement was signed both suits were dismissed and the costs will be paid later. The board of arbitration will determine who is to pay the costs. The other suit was for the possession of the farm.

Under the agreement the board of arbitration shall examine witnesses and have authority to pass on all matters in difference between Thomas and Warriek. The agreement is as follows:

First—That both of the said suits shall be dismissed by plaintiff. The question of who shall pay said costs to be submitted to the arbitrators.

Second—Each of said parties shall select a disinterested party as an arbitrator, which party shall not be related to the parties herein either by blood or marriage nor shall have been a witness in either of the said causes and the two arbitrators so selected shall elect a third person with like qualifications and these three sitting as a board of arbitration in Rushville, Indiana, shall hear all matters of difference or grievance between the said parties that have not heretofore been settled by the parties.

Third—Each of the parties hereto, in person or by attorney shall be present with any witnesses or other evidence he may have at the meeting of said board of arbitration and shall submit in writing to said board an itemized statement of the amounts of claims due him from the other party, and he shall also furnish a copy of statement to the opposite party at the same time.

Fourth—Said board of arbitration shall consider all questions presented to them by the parties or their attorneys and shall have the authority to question the parties or witnesses themselves, and shall be given whatever time they desire to consider said matters and to render a decision on the same. And the decision of said board of arbitration shall be final and accepted by the parties hereto as a final adjudication of all points of difference presented to said board of arbitration. And said arbitrators shall have the right, if they so desire, to visit the Thomas farm and inspect, in person, any portion of same they may desire.

Fifth—It is agreed that the pay for the service of said arbitrators shall be born equally by said parties hereto.

Judge Sparks heard the suit of William Catey and Gerald Catey against Donel Laughlin and John E. Laughlin this morning. The suit was on a note and the demand was $300. The court took the evidence under advisement.

The plaintiff in the suit of Elma E. Porter against John G. Gartin, demanding damages in the sum of $5,000, filed a motion for a change of venue from the county.

ORGANIZES FOR CITY CAMPAIGN

Republican Committee Elects S. G. Gregg, Chairman, George Helm Sec., F. H. Green, Treas.

Impressed on Prospective Candidates They Must File Declarations 30 Days Before Mar. 6

The republican central committee of Rushville met at the court house last night and organized and considered the methods that will be used to set in motion the machinery of the first city primary ever held here. The primary will be held the first Tuesday after the first Monday in March, which falls on the sixth.

S. G. Gregg was elected chairman of the committee; George Helm, secretary, and Frank H. Green, treasurer. Republican city committees were reorganized all over the state yesterday afternoon and last night at the call of the republican state chairman, Will H. Hays. The democratic city committee will be reorganized Friday night at a meeting in their rooms over Caron's store.

Several candidates for city clerk were mentioned last night, but none has publically announced that he will be a candidate. It was also reported that some members of the council would seek re-election.

The thing that the city committee wishes to impress on prospective candidates is that they must make declarations of their candidacy at least thirty days and not more than sixty days before the date of the primary, with the city clerk or a member of the city committee. The candidates must comply with this provision or their names will not be printed on the official ballot.

This provision of the law says that each candidate in the primary shall pay one per cent of the annual salary of the office for which he seeks to be a candidate to defray the expenses of the primary, but that was held unconstitutional and was not followed in the primary before the general election.

All duties imposed upon the clerk of the circuit court in the general primary fall upon the shoulders of the city clerk in the city primary. He appoints two canvassers, one representative from each of the two leading political parties, and the three compose the canvassing board.

There has been much talk of the legislature which convenes tomorrow changing the primary law so that the city primary would not be held so long before the election, but it is not at all likely that any changes made would affect the coming primary.

RUBBER FOOTWEAR GOES UP

Wholesalers Advance Prices 15 to 20 Per Cent, Dealers Say

Local dealers have received notice of an increase of 15 to 20 per cent in the wholesale price of rubber footwear, effective January 7. One dealer who has received such a notice says that the retail price of rubber boots will be advanced fifty cents a pair immediately, but that the increase by the wholesalers is not likely to cause the price of overshoes to go higher this season at least. The wholesalers say the advance is not due to the high cost of rubber, but to the rise in the price of the fabrics used in making rubber footwear and the increased cost of labor.

CITY LOSES THE PEDDLERS SUIT

Supreme Court Affirms Local Decision in The Case Against Louis Heyneman

HISTORY OF THE ACTION

Opinion of Judge Sparks That he Was Doing Interstate Business is Upheld

The City of Rushville lost its suit against Louis Heyneman, the traveling representative of a Cleveland clothing house, who was charged with selling without a license. The supreme court yesterday affirmed the decision of Judge Sparks in holding that the city could not compel him to take out a license as he was doing an interstate business.

The action was brought in the mayor's court at the request of a number of merchants, who objected to Heyneman selling his wares in competition to them without paying a license fee. Mayor Bebout found for the city and ordered Heyneman to pay the sum of $25, holding that the city had been damaged this amount by his peddling without a license. Heyneman appealed to the circuit court where Judge Sparks found for him and then the city took the appeal.

The action was quasi-criminal, the city attempting to recover a penalty and the action was prosecuted by John Kiplinger, who was then city attorney. George W. Young defended Heyneman.

It was shown in the case that Heyneman was a resident of Cincinnati and that he was soliciting orders for men's clothing by sample to be thereafter shipped from the factory in Cleveland and examined before final payment. The court held that the ordinance, which requires peddlers or solicitors to pay a license fee of from $2 to $6 a day, was void as attempting to restrict interstate commerce and that Heyneman was not liable for the penalties under it.

The city maintained that as Heyneman required a deposit of one dollar with each order, the transaction took place on the day the order was given and this did not constitute interstate business.

This is the second case going from Rushville to the supreme court involving the ordinance for collecting fees from peddlers. The first case was reversed and the council amended the ordinance. The first case went to the supreme court about twenty years ago. The ruling of the supreme court is as follows:

23000. City of Rushville vs. Heyneman, Rush C. C. Affirmed. J. Erwin. (1) Suit by appellant for a penalty under an ordinance requiring the taking out of a license for peddling or for soliciting orders. It is shown that appellee was a resident of Cincinnati, that he was soliciting for orders for men's clothing by sample, to be examined upon delivery after shipment from Cleveland. The court holds that the ordinance could not require a license to transact the business, as it was interstate commerce.

HOLDS ITS FIRST SESSION OF 1917

Council Employees George W. Young as Attorney for Another Year and Apportions Funds

PLANS TO ATTEND MEETING

Supt. Mahin Will Aid in Movement to Take Plants From Under Commission's Control

The city council at the regular meeting last night awarded the banks and trust companies of the city the public funds for the coming year. Bids were received from all of the banks and trust companies and the apportionment, which is for two years, was made on the same basis at the last apportionment.

The funds will be apportioned to the banks as follows: Rush County National, thirty-two and one-half per cent; Rushville National, twenty-eight and one-half per cent; Peoples Bank, twenty per cent; Peoples Loan and Trust company, ten per cent; Farmers Trust company, nine per cent.

The meeting last night was quiet because the council met only last Saturday. The meeting was the first of the new year. George W. Young was employed as attorney for the city for another year. Mr. Young has completed one year's service.

A meeting of mayors and city officials will be held in Indianapolis on January 9 when plans will be discussed as to how to go about getting municipal-owned plants from Service Commission. Superintendent A. T. Mahin will attend and it is likely that Mayor Bebout and one or two councilmen will also attend. The movement is general throughout Indiana to take city owned water and light plants from under the control of the state commission and the meeting may develop something definite and a line of action outlined.

The police committee was empowered to purchase some mops for the police and also to get the police motorcycle overhauled before spring. The treasurer's report for the month of December was referred to the finance committee.

The report of Superintendent Mahin for the month of December showed disbursements for the month of $2,612.60 and the receipts of $5,274.92.

There were no claims last night as all the bills were paid at the special meeting last Saturday.

SUIT FOR $15,000 DAMAGES FILED HERE

Case of Lawrence Maxwell Against Springfield Insurance Co. Reaches Local Court.

BROUGHT IN FAYETTE COUNTY

A damage suit in which the amount demanded is $15,000 has reached the local court on a change of venue from Fayette county. It is the suit of Lawrence Maxwell against the Springfield Fire and Marine Insurance Company of Springfield, Mass.

Maxwell is the owner of a large factory building, which was insured in the company against any loss from the fire sprinkler system. The complaint alleges that on April 25, 1915, a severe windstorm took the roof off the building and in doing so the debris fell downward, causing the sprinkler system pipes to break and flood the interior of the factory. He claims that the material, stock and machinery were damaged and that the total loss was $21,500. He claims that the Springfield Insurance company is liable for $15,000 of the damage by reason of their policy.

MUST SLAY THE LIONS OF TODAY

Christians Compared With Mighty Men of the Times of David and Christ by Minister

WEEK OF PRAYER SERVICE

Rev. S. G. Huntington Selected "Mighty Men" as Text—At First Baptist Church Tonight

By drawing comparisons between the mighty men in the times of Christ and David and today, the Rev. S. G. Huntington brought out in a powerful sermon last evening on "Mighty Men" the necessary qualities they are to have today. He took for his text 1st Chronicles 11:22, and as in the text, "Benaiah slew lions against odds, so my friends, must we, to be Christians, be able to slay the many lions of sin with which we come in contact."

The service last evening was at the St. Paul's M. E. church, with a very good attendance. This evening the meeting will be at the First Baptist church with the sermon by the Rev. D. Ira Lambert; and tomorrow evening the Rev. W. M. Whitsitt will preach at the First Presbyterian church. These meetings are carrying out the plan of the ministerial association for a union week of prayer.

"In many ways David's kingdom resembled Christ's kingdom and can we not say that the mighty men in the time of David resembled the type in the time of Christ? Too, David did not or could not accept the kingdom until the people were ready and willing for him to rule over them, until all Israel recognized him as God's anointed. So it was with Christ, and so it is with him today. He has been chosen by God as King but is not received by the people yet. The waiting season has been 2000 years and yet He cannot be crowned until the people are of one heart and mind to receive Him. We sing 'All Hail the Power of Jesus Name' but what are we doing to bring it about?" emphasized the Rev. Mr. Huntington.

"According to the scripture, Benaiah slew a lion, and do you know when and where? It was 'in the midst of a pit and in the time of snow.' It was a bad place and a bad time. How often is it the case now when we attempt to slay the lions that come in our path when some 'child of God' attempts to stop us. As the lion is the 'strongest of wild beasts' so we are called upon to slay the lions of today or they slay us."

"And now what are some of our lions?" asked the Rev. Mr. Huntington. "There is that lion of besetting sin, doubt; the lion of impatience; and another of natural infirmity. The people that are unable to come to church on Sunday are the ones that I see on Christmas eve and every other eve down town tripping about like a boy of ten."

"My friends there are too many moral men and not enough real Christians. They are the ones who can spend all the money they have for pleasure and not one cent for the church. You say, I am speaking plainly. Surely that is my business. It is reaching the place now where the preachers can't tell the truth from the pulpit or they will lose their jobs."

"These lions that we must meet and conquer need mighty men as in the days of David. You and I must conquer the lions of worldly pleasure, the beasts that devour our souls and bring ruin. We must be men who will rise up and stand four-square to sin, instead of playing politics with sin. I am optimistic enough to believe there are enough Christians in the city of Rushville to conquer it for Christ and I am optimistic enough to think there are enough Christians in the city of Rushville to conquer it for Christ."

MAN RECEIVING TIP IS NAMED

Proposed Investigation of "Leak" to Wall Street Takes Most Sensational Turn Today

INQUIRY SEEMS CERTAIN NOW

Rep. Bennett of New York Says Bernard Beruch Was One of Those Getting Advance News

(By United Press.)
Washington, Jan. 3.—The fight in the house over proposed congressional investigation of the "leak" to Wall Street of advance information on the President's note to warring nations took its most sensational turn this afternoon when Representative Bennett of New York named Bernard Beruch as one of those who received the advance tip.

He said it was rumored that Beruch sold 15,000 shares of steel common on a rising market thirty minutes before the note was published. That congress will investigate the "leak" seemed certain following Bennett's declaration.

In the senate an endorsement of President Wilson's note was refused for the fourth time following a stormy session. Senator Stone chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, in speaking in the senate, exonerated Secretary Lansing from blame for "leaks" in the state department which Stone said resulted from the present civil service system.

This statement was made following a conference between Lansing and the senator.

TO LAY CARDS ON TABLE, INDICATED

When Secretary of State Visits Capitol, it is Believed Administration Will Play Openly

WILSON WANTS ENDORSEMENT

By ROBERT J. BENDER
(U. S. Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, Jan. 3.—That the administration has finally decided to lay its diplomatic cards on the table before the senate foreign relations committee was indicated today when Secretary of State Lansing went to the capitol to consult with members of the committee.

The secretary's visit was interpreted as indicating the administration is more anxious for endorsement of its peace note than it has heretofore revealed.

Lansing's visit, the first he has made, followed conferences between President Wilson and Chairman Stone of the senate committee and between Lansing and members of the house foreign affairs committee.

Commissioners Hold up This Sum on Contractor.

The county commissioners today ordered the sum of $500 held back on Wilk and Company, contractor for the William J. Brown road in Anderson township. The commissioners held that the road lacked this much money of being completed. It was not specified what work the contracting firm had to do to get the balance of the money. The evidence on a remonstrance against accepting the road was heard yesterday. The commissioners spent most of the day allowing claims.

CARTHAGE WOULD HAVE PAVED STREET

Petition is Filed Before Commissioners for Concrete Highway Running Through the Town

TOWNSHIP LINE ROAD ASKED

If a petition, which has been filed with the commissioners is granted and goes through, Carthage will have a paved street. The petition containing the names of seventy-seven freeholders of Ripley township asks for the construction of a concrete highway, starting at the south corporation line in Main street and running north through the town and connecting with the Knightstown pike.

The petitioners desire that the concrete highway be sixteen feet wide outside of the town and as wide as the street within the corporate limits. The petition will be presented to the board on January 20. The name of E. N. Hill leads the petition.

A petition has also been filed asking for the establishment of a gravel highway on the township line road between Posey and Ripley.

$3,170.37 Paid as Interest

Building Association No. 10 has just paid its depositors and borrowing members $3,170.37 in interest for the last 6 months. Did you get any of it? If not, why not open an account RIGHT NOW?

My Treasure Chest.

Not filled with bags of gold, or precious stones, or valuable documents is my treasure chest. Nor is it an old pine box buried under a great tree in some forest. My treasure chest is a wicker window box which stands under my writing table at the Vitagraph studio.

Or, I should say that it is just one of my treasure chests. The other is an old, worn, leather trunk which stands in the trunk room at "The Wood Violet," my little country home on Long Island.

Both of these chests—the wicker one and the old trunk which held Mother O'Mine's trousseau—contain the letters which you write me.

When the letters come in to me every morning at the studio they are opened—sorted—answered—and then placed away in the wicker chest. After a certain time, however, the letter is taken out to my dear little home in my machine, after which it is placed in the old leather trunk.

There is no greater help in the screen star's life than these letters which you write, dear friends. All of us love a bit of praise and appreciation now and then, and these messages of yours serve to let us know whether or not our pictures are favored by you.

You see, the legitimate star is inspired by the great sea of faces before her, the orchestra, the applause and the glimmering footlights. The movie star, however, works without an audience, before the cold camera that is all-seeing and critical. Every blemish is magnified by the motion picture, and the star never knows until the letters come in how her efforts are received.

Although I have never worked behind the footlights and do not miss the applause of a pleased audience, the letters means much to me. Some of the happiest moments of my life come when I go over the epistles which you so thoughtfully write.

When I am old and gray—after you have forgotten all about the dear letters which you now write—I expect to spend many, many happy hours reading over the wonderful tributes which you have paid my work from time to time. Thank you for your letters a thousand times, dear friends. May I be worthy of your love always.

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, you will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women as well as men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep in the pink of condition. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

True Secret of Keeping Youthful Looking

(The Beauty Seeker.)
"The real secret of keeping young-looking and beautiful," says a well-known hygienist,
"is to keep the liver and bowels normally active. Without these requisites, poisonous waste products remain in the system, polluting the blood and lodging in various organs, tissues, joints. One becomes flabby, obese, nervous, mentally sluggish, dull-eyed, wrinkled and sallow of face."
"But to get liver and bowels working as they ought, without producing evil after-effects has been the problem. Fortunately, there is a prescription of unquestioned merit, which may now be had in convenient tablet form.
Its value is due largely to an ingredient derived from the humble May apple, or its root, which has been called "vegetable calomel" because of its effectiveness—though, of course, it is not to be classed with the real calomel of mercurial origin. There is no habit-forming constituent in "sentinel" tablets—that's the name—and their use is not followed by weakness or exhaustion. On the contrary, these harmless vegetable tablets tend to impart tone and elasticity to the relaxed intestinal wall.
Sentinel tablets, which may be procured from any druggist—a dime's worth will do—will prove a revelation to any constipated, liver-troubled person."

Serving the News.
In both foreign and domestic news the United Press has served its clients, of which the Daily Republican is one, during the past year in fine fashion. From every foreign capital and from every important center in the United States the United Press each day gleaned the important happenings and they are served up for evening readers. The advance of this association has been so rapid that it now has more evenings clients than any other news gathering association in the field.

Standing out as the biggest foreign news beat of the year—in fact one of the biggest journalistic accomplishments of a decade—is the interview with David Lloyd George, now the British Premier, published in The Republican on September 28.
In this interview the then British War minister told the world through the United Press the attitude of the Allies toward the war. The interview has been quoted time after time in the peace discussion that has recently arisen. It virtually has become a state document to which the entire world refers.

From this high mark of the year in news achievement, on through the various crises in this country, and in handling endless "big" domestic stories, through the United Press The Republican has been able to publish the news first.

On the night of November 7 when all other news agencies, and newspapers throughout the country, announced the election of Charles E.
Hughes, The United Press stood solidly on the returns it was gathering through its bureaus and correspondents. Those returns did not show Hughes elected. The United Press was not stampeded. It was delivering reports from state after state far ahead of the opposition service. It was passing through one of the most severe tests of speed, accuracy and efficiency that had ever arisen, and it made good.
When the turn came, The United Press was far ahead on developments in California, which finally clinched the re-election of President Wilson.

For the nominating conventions in Chicago, through the campaign with staff correspondents covering the tours and speeches of the candidates, and on to the final count in California. The Republican led the way with the United Press report.

The beginning of 1917 finds The Republican better fitted than ever before to give its readers the news

OLD-TIME COLD CURE—DRINK HOT TEA!

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Tee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time during the day or before retiring. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores of the skin, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking up a cold.
Try it the next time you suffer from a cold or the grip. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore safe and harmless.

It's pain only; not one case in fifty rheumatic pain. "St. Jacobs Oil" is a harmless rheumatism cure which never disappoints and doesn't burn the skin. It takes pain, soreness and stiffness from aching joints, muscles and bones; stops sciatica, lumbago, backache, neuralgia.

Lumber up! Get a 25 cent bottle of old-time, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" from any drug store, and in a moment you'll be free from pains, aches and President as one of the foremost characters in the drama—loomed large on the year's horizon. Behind this vision, however, there rose intricate and dangerous questions of trade and diplomacy, the readjustment of world affairs and the economic revolutions bound to follow close of the war.

In brief, 1917 promises to be the most eventful twelve months of President Wilson's administration.
The year nevertheless made its bow at the White House mildly, inaugurating no changes in the President's regular program of daily work.

Looking back on 1916 the calendar pages disclose twelve months of almost constant strain at the White House.

"Our own rights as a nation, the liberties, the privileges, and the property of our people have been profoundly affected," as a result of the war, the President declared recently.

He probably was thinking of his tour through the central west urging immediate response to a call for preparedness; his constant difficulties with Germany and England as a result of breaches of international law; his appearance before Congress with a warning that broken of the entire world first. In August, 1916, the United Press established the first comprehensive South American news service and closed a long term contract with La Nacion, the leading newspaper of Argentina.

President Wilson, Secretary of State Lansing, Foreign Secretary Narrative, of Argentina and many other government and financial leaders commented on this connecting of the two Americas through news channels as a history making step of the highest importance.

The year saw many important foreign developments of the United Press, including the signing of important contracts with leading Paris papers; the establishment of a connection with the Australian Press Association and extensions in England, Germany and Russia.

"After an extended trip through Russia and a period in Petrograd, William Philip Simms, manager of the Paris Bureau, returned to France and was permanently credentialed to the British front.

Simms is the first American correspondent at the British front representing one neutral news agency exclusively.

Henry Wood is now with the French armies. He is credited to remain at the front permanently, and was an eye witness at the recent French victory at Verdun.

Carl W. Ackerman was with the German army when the Teutonic forces made their victorious sweep through Roumania which culminated in the capture of Bucharest.

W. S. Forrest has on different occasions visited the British fleet. He sent personal eye-witness stories from Ireland during the revolt there.
From the Balkans, from Italy, Germany, Russia, England and France have come United Press stories—FIRST.

You All Know the Person.

Who is so averse to the principle of obedience that he will not even attend to his own business.

Peter Zyla of Chicago was about to receive $3,500 for going blind while at his work. The insurance company doubted, and got Miss Hazel Daley in the guise of a moving picture actress to raise her skirts to unusual heights in Daley's presence. He opened his eyes wide and shred. Now the court is expected to decide he is not entitled to the money.

relations with Germany was a crisis immediately facing the United States; and finally the hope of an end to these dangers when Germany proffered peace to the world.

The White House itself has housed some of the most dramatic scenes in its history. Full details may never be told of the dramatic conference between the President and administration leaders in the library of the Executive Mansion when it appeared inevitable that the United States would be drawn into war with Germany.

It was then the President told Senator Stone of the Senate foreign relations committee that if another American life were lost as a result of violation by Germany of her pledges to this country on submarine warfare, the only course left open to him, was to sever diplomatic relations with Germany. And questioned as to whether or not such action would mean war, the President replied he had been told it would. It was a stormy conference in which the minds of the President and his faithful leaders were laid bare.

It was followed by an effort to pass resolutions in Congress warning Americans off armed ships—a measure fought to a successful finish by the President himself. Later he appeared before Congress, notifying that body of the virtual ultimatum sent to the Kaiser, following the Sussex sinking.

There was another dramatic conference in the White House. The Gold room, famed for its specullar social events during years gone by, was opened to a conference between the President and five hundred railroad trainmen in an effort to ward off a nationwide railroad strike. This was followed by the appearance of railroad executives, representing millions of dollars of capital, and for days the conference went on to no avail.

Immediately afterward the President wielded his "big stick" over Congress and forced the passage of an eight hour law, averting the strike.

Then came the election. The exciting scenes of uncertainty surrounding the climax of that struggle were transferred to Shadow Lawn, where the President was spending his vacation. The President himself tells an interesting story of the twenty-four hours from Tuesday evening until Wednesday evening when the returns gave the result first to Hughes and then to Wilson.

During Tuesday evening he sat with Mrs. Wilson and his daughter, Margaret, in the library of the mansion hearing the returns. They were a dubious lot of returns and after all the New York papers had awarded the victory to Hughes there seemed little hope for him in the outlook.

"I retired about 12:30," the President says, telling of his feelings, "and at that time the situation could not be termed encouraging. I was shaving the next morning when my daughter, Margaret, who had risen early in order to catch a train for New York, came up and informed me I was elected.

"Oh, pshaw," I said to her, "what do you mean. Let's have some of the details." She then told me that early reports received over press association wires in the Executive office indicated the change. However, I went on shaving. Details were not very complete. They, of course came later."

The President that day played an exceptionally good game of golf.

Mrs. Wilson's confidence in the outcome already had been indicated when she planted tulip bulbs in the front yard of the White House in order to enjoy them next fall.

A RAW, SORE THROAT

Eases Quickly When You Apply a Little Musterole

And Musterole won't blister like the old-fashioned mustard plaster. Just spread it on with your fingers. It penetrates to the sore spot with a gentle tingle, loosens the congestion and draws out the soreness and pain.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment made with oil of mustard. It is fine for quick relief for sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bitten feet, colds on the chest (it often prevents pneumonia). Nothing like Musterole for croupy children. Keep it handy for instant use.

TODAY'S FISH RECIPE.

Furnished by Dr. H. E. Barnard.

In cooking any kind of fish, the things to be remembered are: Fish should be fried in deep fat, which after cooking, should be drained thoroughly and, if necessarily, placed on white paper to drain. Chilled fish should be thoroughly thawed before cooking. The best way is to put the fish in cold water. If warm water is used, cook the fish in the same water.

Well salted water should be used for boiling fish.

Care should be taken, not only to prepare and cook fish properly, but to serve it attractively.

A can of curry powder and a small stock of seasoning will enable the housewife to vary her dishes indefinitely.

Cold fish should not be wasted. It makes numerous excellent warm dishes and fine salads.

Mother Tells How Vinol Made Her Delicate Boy Strong

New York City.—"My little boy was in a very weak, delicate condition as a result of gastritis and the measles and there seemed no hope of saving his life. The doctor prescribed cod liver oil but he could not take it. I decided to try Vinol—and with splendid results. It seemed to agree with him so that now he is a strong healthy boy." SPOTLIGHT ON W. B. COCHRAN

His Presence at Bomb Trial of Thomas J. Mooney Attracts Attention—Donates Services.

CONFESSIONS ARE REFUTED

Alleged to Have Plotted to Place Explosive in Midst of Preparedness Parade

(By United Press.)

San Francisco, Jan. 3.—With W. Burke Cochran occupying the spotlight as chief counsel for the defense, the second trial resulting from the Preparedness Parade dynamiting here began in superior court today.

Thos. J. Mooney, alleged leader of the four men and one woman accused of having plotted to place the bomb which exploded in the midst of paraders on July last, killed ten persons and injured 50, was on trial for his life.

The presence of Cochran has drawn the attention of the country to the trial in much the same way that Clarence Darrow's activity in the defense of the McNamara brothers drew the country's attention to that trial five years ago.

Following the conviction in September of Warren K. Billings, first of the five alleged conspirators tried. Cochran, a New York lawyer, volunteered his service to the defense. He will serve without compensation, according to officers of the International Worker's Defense League which is conducting the defense.

Indicted with Mooney as a co-defendant is his wife, Rena Mooney, a music teacher and strike organizer, Thomas Mooney, leader of the defendants, was active in spreading strike propaganda and had planned to cause a general strike of United Railways platform men here a short time before the fatal Preparedness Day parade.

It was alleged by the prosecution that the bomb had been set to explode at a time when non-union employees of the street railway lines would pass the point where the bomb had been placed at Steuart and Market streets but that a delay in the start of the parade upset the plans of the dynamiters.

The defense declared all the defendants are innocent and are victims of circumstantial evidence. Mooney surrendered to the police after reading newspaper statements that he was implicated in the crime. He was stopping at a summer resort at that time.

The case has been featured by several alleged confessions which were later refuted. A number of photographs taken on the day of the Preparedness Parade are held by both sides as evidence.

The trial opened in superior Judge Frank P. Dunne's chambers. District Attorney Charles N. Pickert, and a corp of deputies represent the prosecution while Cochran, and Maxwell McNutt, represent the defense.

CARMEN MAY STRIKE

(By United Press.)
Chicago, Jan. 3.—The United States court of appeals has reversed the ruling of the United States district court at Indianapolis and dismissed the injunction against William D. Mahon and employees of the Indianapolis Traction and Terminal company, restraining them from declaring a strike against the traction company. The court ruled that the lower tribunal had no jurisdiction.

+++++ SOAP INSTEAD OF LARD +++++
Terre Haute, Ind., Jan. 3.—Detective Ed Bidaman brought a possum home to his wife but she confessed she didn't know a thing about cooking it. Bidaman donned an apron, put on a skillet and started to show his spouse how to cook. Ed only made one mistake. He grabbed the wrong can and tried the possum in soft soap instead of lard.

DRAIN QUESTIONS TO BE DISCUSSED

Farm Congress to Take up Proposed Legislation Regarding Construction of Ditches.

FAVORS CHANGES IN LAWS

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 3.—Legislative matters of interest to farmers will be discussed at the annual two-day session of the Indiana Farmers Congress which opened at the English hotel today. All important matters coming before the next session of the legislature will be discussed.

The congress is planning to have a bill introduced which will provide for the cleaning of tile, dredge and open ditch drains whenever they need cleaning instead of biennially as under the law now in force.

The proposed bill would also extend the duties of the county drainage commission and change the rates of assessment's for cleaning drains.

At the present time, county drainage commissioners are empowered to supervise the construction of drain only but it is proposed to make him responsible for their maintenance and repair; to appoint drainage superintendents for each township and fix flat rates per acre for assessment instead of the present system of charging in proportion to the benefit obtained.

The twelfth annual farmers' institute held at Arlington yesterday under the auspices of Purdue University, was the most successful of any held. Over two hundred people attended the institute. It was voted to hold another institute next year, but the date was not set as this is determined by the officials at Purdue.

Officers elected for the ensuing year were as follows: Fred McFartridge, president; Ray Swain, vice-president and George Carwein, secretary and treasurer. J. M. Hufferd is the retiring president. Mr. Swain served as secretary and treasurer the past year and was advanced to the office of vice-president.

The corn show, while not as large as in previous years, was considerably better from the standpoint of quality. The corn was said to have been the best ever exhibited in Arlington. The first prize for ten ears of yellow corn was awarded to A. J. Reddick and the second prize to Windle Pitts. In the contest for the best ten ears of white corn, Windle Pitts was awarded first prize and Mr. Reddick, second prize. Pitts was also given first prize for the best single ear of corn. Silas Berkner was awarded second prize in this class.

The pastry exhibit was as good as in former years. The officers elected for the auxiliary section of the institute were Mrs. Blanche Garwein, president; Mrs. Fred McFartridge, vice-president and Miss Essie K. Pressnall, secretary.

The speakers at the institute were J. P. Prigg and Mrs. H. J. Deller. Their talks were instructive as well as interesting.

The Mays institute and corn show opened last night and continued throughout today. The same speakers as were at Arlington were on the program. Music was furnished by the Center orchestra.

To the Board of Commissioners of Rush County, Indiana:

The undersigned respectfully show to your Honorable Body that they are resident freeholders and voters of Ripley Township, Rush County, Indiana, and that said township does not contain an incorporated town or city of thirty thousand or more.

Your petitioners would further show that there is now and has been for a number of years past a public highway in Ripley Township running north through the town of Carthage, through section nineteen (19), township fifteen (15), range nine (9) east, and being known as Main Street, and thence in a northeasterly direction through section eighteen (18), to the south line of section eight (8) in said township and range, the last portion being known as the Knights-town pike, and said petitioners now ask that that part of said highway described as follows, to-wit:

Beginning at the south end of Main Street in the town of Carthage, that being the south corporation line of said town of Carthage, thence in a northeasterly direction over and along the Knights-town pike to the south line of section eight (8) township fifteen (15) north, range nine (9) east, where a free gravel road runs south, by draining, grading and paving the same to the width of said highway as now established, and by placing thereon reinforced concrete to the entire width of said street within the corporate limits of the town of Carthage, and to the width of sixteen (16) feet outside the corporate limits of said town.

Petitioners would further show to said Board that said highway is connected at each end with an improved free gravel road and that the same is under three miles in length. That said highway is all within Ripley Township, Rush County, Indiana, and that said highway when so improved will be of public utility.

SEASON OF PUBLIC SALES IN OFFING

Farmers are Now Scrambling for Dates so That There Will be no Conflicts

MILLER'S HEAVY SCHEDULE

The public sale season is coming on apace and it will not be many days until farmers, if they so desire, can occupy all of their time attending sales. It is a very rare thing for a farmer to waste his time attending these auctions, too, because he can nearly always find something that will be of use to him.

Clen Miller says he has more sale dates for the next three or four months than he ever had in a similar period in his successful career as an auctioneer. Farmers who want to hold sales are now scrambling for dates so as not to conflict with any other sale.

The farm public sale is an institution of only recent forming. A few years back a public sale on the farm was an almost unheard of thing, unless the farmer wished to quit business or dissolve a partnership.

Now farmers make it a business, many of them, to hold a public auction every year.

To Manufacturers Rushed With Orders!

Some manufacturers are so busy they think it is foolish to advertise for more business. Let them ponder over these words from one who controls seventy-five per cent of the trade in his particular industry:

"We are rushed," he said, "but we will advertise more than ever. We would no more curtail our newspaper advertising than we would lower the quality of our goods. The advertising is part of our service—something we owe to our dealers and to our customers. It is really part—and a vital part—of the goods."
